

Zaiden talks fishing. 25 July 2018. By Tara.

Zaiden, you discussed with me what you did in the holidays. I was interested to hear you speaking about going fishing. You drew a picture of this experience, then you told me you were going to build a fishing rod holder.

Later you came and showed me a fishing rod and line with a fish on the end. You were very proud.

What learning is happening here?

You are following your passions and showing your creativity. At Haeata we call this being a designer. Creating something new, having a thirst for learning. I love how you demonstrate your ability to design through thinking and working on an idea and completing your task. You show real stackability.

Zaiden you also have shown your understanding of your communication fluency goal, of drawing a picture and talking about it. Well Done!

Next steps

I wonder if there are any other questions you are interested in about fishing?
